

Our results: Exploring data

You used R to load data to a H2O server and sampled the data using tables and plots. Compare your observations to ours. Here's our resulting data plot:

The graph shows customers in the Lawyer, Driver and Self-Employed categories have the highest number of instances of accepting direct marketing offers via telephone. But these customer categories also show the highest number of instances for rejecting offers as well.

We need to explore this data further!